WALL ST. STOCK REPORTS.

A Trifling Decline, Followed by an Equally Trifling Advance.

No More Silver to Be purchased This Month.

Russell Sage's Inventory of Jay Gould's Corporate Ho'Dings.

EARLY and Bullish at the Stock Exchange on Tuesday, Sept. 26. The market was buoyant, and as a result prices were very irregular again today. In the first sales the market was heavy, especially for Louisville & Nashville, Pacific Mail, Atchafalaya, Union Pacific, New England and Sugar Certificates. The depression was due to the rumor that a Boston concern was in trouble. The break in prices ranged from 1/4 to 3/4. Later on the entire list rallied 1/4 to 3/4 per cent, but near the close the market was weak again.

Russell Sage, in an interview printed in one of the Wall Street papers, says:

"There is not a man in America or the world at large who absolutely owns and controls the dividend periods come around and buy other securities. He draws for dividends 2 per cent, or 3 per cent, or 4 per cent."

"His income from other sources, of course, amounts to four or five times as much. It will be readily seen that he cannot begin to use for his own personal needs even a small part of the interest, which the dividend money alone would yield. He must reinvest it, and he does reinvest it."

"It is safe to say that he takes this money as the dividend periods come around and buys other securities. His holdings show that he is bullish upon the properties with which his name is identified, because he owns not less than a quarter interest in each, and in some cases a half interest. These facts are not known, of course, to the world."

"This may be all true, but the poor, hungry brokers say that an advance of 5 or 10 points in Gould's stocks would do them far more good than Mr. Sage's dissertations on the little wizard's wealth."

The Lacksawanna directors to-day declared the usual quarterly dividend of 1 1/4 per cent, payable Oct. 20.

The Treasury Department to-day bought 103,000 ounces of silver at 113 1/4 cents, making the total amount purchased to date under the new law 7,377,000 ounces. No more silver will be taken this month.

Money was easy on call at 3 1/4 per cent.

The sales at the New York Stock Exchange were 179,755 shares of listed stocks, 455,000 ounces of silver and 5,000 barrels of Pennsylvania.

HE WAS CRUELLY CLUBBED.

Richard Carr's Serious Charges Against Policeman Cummings.

Charges Filed Against the Officer by Order of Inspector Williams.

An instance of brutal and apparently unprovoked clubbing by a policeman was reported to Inspector Williams at Police Headquarters this morning.

The victim was a man of middle age and swiftness from his neck down, rendering him very lame and preventing his sitting or lying down. He was scarcely able to speak, and told his horrible story, as his mouth was badly cut and swollen.

The man's name is Richard Carr, a bricklayer, living at 245 East Eighty-eighth street, and his assailant was James Cummings, a policeman belonging to the East Eighty-eighth station, under command of Capt. O'Connor. Cummings was at once summoned before the Inspector.

Carr was accompanied to Headquarters by John M. Lloyd, residing at 218 East Eighty-first street, who witnessed the whole of the outrageous affair, and it was he who gave the details of the occurrence to the Inspector.

Carr had been asked by a truckman Wednesday night to help him carry some heavy articles of furniture into a house adjoining the saloon at 211 East Eighty-first street, into which a family were moving.

Thereafter there was a dispute between the truckman and the head of the family as to the former's pay, and Policeman Cummings was called.

"If you don't get out I'll open your head," said Cummings to the truckman, according to Mr. Lloyd, swinging his club, and the truckman jumped on his wagon.

Then turning to Carr, who stood in front of the saloon, Cummings asked: "Where do you live?" and on being told, the officer gave him a stinging blow on the cheek with his fist, saying:

"Then go there."

Carr started off, when it is alleged that the policeman followed and struck him a blow on the mouth with his club, cutting the lower lip in two, and the blood gushed from the wound "as from a stuck pig."

Not content with this, Mr. Lloyd continues, Cummings followed Carr up and struck him repeatedly on the back, legs and body until the poor man groaned with pain and begged piteously to be arrested and not killed.

"Shame! shame!" cried scores of people, who witnessed the brutality from their windows and doors, and his limbs were nearly doubled up and stiff.

At the station-house Cummings made a boast of his prowess, and said he was willing to lose more in the hope that he will get it.
